And eme and jerry

I saw court dates on courtview for Oct 30/31st then another for mid november.....what's going on with the court stuff? I don't have dates or copies on the conversations but I can try to get those after work from eme

I know July 7th was last time eme and kk talked over fb....not sure when it was eme talked with jj but I can find out later tonight

THU AT 2:38 PM

Thanks

Tory and eme actually were able to talk to kk over snap chat or instagram....about a week ago....but I'm not sure which it was....not sure how she was accessing to set up a new acct....she didn't say much and from what I saw of the short conversations she was very worried they would find out she had access somehow....she told both tory and eme not to tell anyone cause she was scared of being caught

So we know she is alive but eme and tory were scared to ask her any specific

Eme asked kk if it was ok for me to know they were speaking....kk was so worried about being caught she didn't want eme or tory to tell me they were talking to her at all

Seen

I was trying to think of ways to ask questions kk could answer to give us info but we didn't have any luck getting any helpful information.....

No one has heard from her or seen her or anything to confirm her being around in such a long time and I wasn't expecting that

Was what she using a friend's account or something?

Do they have the Snapchat stories? Can they save the Snapchats now?

She had created a new acct...but I will have to ask eme which one of those 2 apps it was on

Is there any way you can forward those to me?

I did tell eme if she got any messages that were concerning or helpful information to screen shot them she able to let on if she's able to leave the house at all or do anything on her own or does she give the impression that it's more like she's a prisoner and kidnapped?

I'll ask eme tonight if she has anything on it....I don't think they have talked since that day...for some reason tory was actually the first one kk talked to once she did have access....he asked kk if eme could have the info to find her and so that's how eme was able to talk to her a bit....so she does know we are all worried about her and missing her....but couldn't get her to say much out of fear someone would see or find her messages so kk must know they hacked

We do not know location....kk was pretty clear she had to be careful what she said right away so tory and eme were careful not to ask much — but I have been thinking about asking my dad if we sent kk stuff to his p.o. box if he would get it to her....so I can ask eme to ask kk for her address so she can send her Christmas presents.....that might get us an address without her feeling like she would get in trouble....like I didn't want eme just saying hey so where do you live....I think she did ask kk that anyways and kk wouldn't say....but the Christmas present or letter writing angle might be a way to find out

I would totally sign a statement as to eme's conversations with kk from July and now....

I've been wondering if I should still go ahead with talking to cps here to see if they would attempt to get cps there to do a well child check on her....especially now that I have copies of all the original case to back up what I would tell them

Seen

I would think between the old case documents and the conversations between eme and kk and kk and jj that would be more than enough for any cps worker or judge to at least see a need to look closer and speak to kk directly to hear her side and how she feels

THU AT 3:01 PM

But I haven't gone to cps cause you had submitted the court stuff and had hearings so I didn't want to mess any of that up....but maybe it would help...I don't know....I've never been a fan of cps cause they always seem to do more damage than good your gut overall.

THU AT 3:22 PM

They only reason I even think about going to them is out of having no other options as to how to get someone in authority to check on and actually see her and talk to her so she can voice how she feels....which sucks cause I worry that might mess the court stuff up somehow....I don't know....it's a 50/50 if it would help or make things worse

Seen

I seriously think getting the judge to look at the history of the case and the messages between kk and eme and jj is the best bet cause I can't imagine they could ignore her own cries for help....especially in regards to food, female products and feeling used as a means to hurt you.....that goes against everything in the laws for custody issues and proves he isn't capable of properly caring for her most basic needs, let alone anything else

I am going to attempt to send kk a Christmas package through the only address I have (my dad's n o box) and hope she gets it and at

The messages between jj and eme were august 23rd

Last ones from kk on facebook were July 7th

She said she hasn't been able to talk to kk on snapchat since we moved into our place a little over a week ago xause we don't have Internet here till next monday....I haven't talked to tory since he connected eme and kk on snapchat so I'm not sure if he is still able to make contact that way or not.

Were she and eme talking before that?

Thanks Sarah

Yeah, July 7th is just the last date they were able to before the most recent limited chats on whichever app they used....

I asked tory if he was still able to talk with kk and it sounds like he is....so I told him to make sure she knows eme doesn't have internet so can't talk till monday....he asked if I had told you about kk having access online....apparently you followed the right account about a week ago....but it freaked her out cause she is worried if she talks to you that jj will find out....tory told her that she shouldn't have to be scared to speak to her mother if she wants to....he says he believes she does want to but is too scared to make contact

None of were able to talk to kk before very recently... 27/28th of October so I believe it was during the week before that.....we had been staying with ernie and tory and charlene brought the girls out for dinner....that was when tory mentioned he was able to talk to kk and got eme and her talking....but she was hesitant to let them tell me she was online....too scared to talk to me too. I'm guessing the same would apply to

Im glad you told me that

That is exactky the reason a judge MUST do something without him being involved
